SHOCKING DISASTER.

MOST OF THEM YOUNG WOMEN

Ten Girls Perish in one Room—Six are Dashed to Death on the Pavement Below. One Brave Life Sacrificed to Save Other[s]

CINCINNATI, May 21.—[illegible] Sixth street. Eight girls and women jumped from the fifth story to the sidewalk and five of them [illegible] dead.

Flames entered the elevator chute, which is near the stairway, and all chance of escape was thus cut off. The killed were mostly employes of the dye work, which occupied a portion of the building.

In addition to the list of those who were killed by leaping from the fifth story eleven more corpses were found inside the building, and search is now being prosecuted. The fifth story was completely burned out, but the walls are still standing. The other floors were not much damaged, and it was not long until the fire was under control. A loss of telephone and telegraph wires prevented the firemen from putting up ladders promptly for the [illegible].

CINCINNATI, May 21.—[illegible] Sixth street [illegible] afternoon caused the death of [illegible] persons. It was at first thought only a [illegible] jumped from the fifth story windows were killed, but when the fire was subdued so that the firemen could enter they found ten dead bodies on the [illegible] with fifth floor [illegible] the fourth. There were six who jumped from the windows and were killed, and one man after saving the lives of two women by lifting them out [illegible] himself killed by the burning of the same rope before he reached the ground. This was Mr. Sullivan, brother of the proprietor of the printing works. The fire originated by the explosion of a gasoline stove.

[illegible] ACCOUNT OF THE DISASTER.

This city has had its share of shocking disasters, but never has one happened where such a pitiful loss of life has occurred as that today with little occasion. In less than fifteen minutes after the fatal fire began a [illegible] persons perished. Looking over the scene after the event it is plain that every life could have been easily saved. Short as the time was there were displays of thought. The heroism that saved two lives lost one of the heroes to his own life.

At [illegible] o'clock this afternoon J. A. Crennelly, editor of the Lima Star, upon going up the street, was led to his office by dense clouds of smoke issuing from the rear windows of the building No. [illegible] and [illegible] West Sixth street, and immediately telephoned to the fire department. An alarm brought the engines almost instantly, and as the firemen could reach the building from the front and the rear it was not fifteen minutes until the fire was so much under control that Chief Engineer Wisby was able to reach the top floor. But he was too late to rescue the girls employed there, and to his horror he found ten dead bodies with hands to their faces and faces blackened and discolored in death. The chief said in speaking of it: "The house is not burned out. In fact the fire was chiefly in the fifth story. I counted ten girls lying upon benches, tables and other things, some on the floor. Their clothing was not burned, but the skin on the back of their hands was scorched. It was a terrible sight, the worst I ever saw in my experience. The girls lay where they had fallen in their wild and helpless despair."

It has now been fairly ascertained that the fire started from a can of benzine on the second floor near the elevator shaft. A [illegible] on that floor says he heard a shout and instantly the flame shot to the elevator shaft [illegible] to the top of the building, and from the third story to the fifth it was carried by a [illegible] stairway, which was the only means of access to the fifth floor. The elevator shaft to add to its combustibility was encased with [illegible] wooden [illegible].

The second floor was [illegible], the third the press room, the third the composing room, the fourth the storage [illegible] and [illegible] fifth was the folding room.

As soon as the fire started John Sullivan, a young man, son of the proprietor, ran up the stairway [illegible] to give warning to the girls. Instantly almost he found he was too late to get them down the stairway, and that his own retreat was cut off. What he did for the [illegible] girls could only be told by glimpses that could be seen through the smoking windows where the girls already had leaped to death. [illegible] Kinsley and his foreman had gone to the roof of adjoining, this on the west, and knowing the girls were imprisoned on the floor below they procured a rope and lowered it to the window where Sullivan was. He instantly grasped it and, [illegible] the girls to it, he helped her out of the window and Kinsley and Shroeder lowered her safely to the sidewalk. The rope was [illegible] up and Sullivan quickly fastened it to another girl and sent her down safely. The rope came up the third time, and as the other girls by this time were all [illegible] or afraid to venture, Sullivan fastened the rope to his own body and was being lowered when the fire, which was half way down, flames shot out of a window and he fell head foremost to the sidewalk, in the presence of the horrified crowd of people who had witnessed his heroism.

When the girls were jumping from the window a large colored man [illegible] to catch the [illegible], but the force of the fall [illegible] he nearly lost his own life in the attempt.

When the [illegible] girls [illegible] wagons were called into use. [illegible] the wounded and dead. As well as can be ascertained there were about fifty [illegible] in the building, of whom twenty or twenty-five were girls in the fifth story. The loss was on the second and third floors [illegible] this accounts for the escape. All agree [illegible] spread of the flames was instantaneous.

Mr. Kinsley, who ran to his upper floors in the rear where the flames were [illegible] of coming through his window found smoke so dense that he had to crawl on the floor to reach his window and close it. All this time there was an avenue of escape which the panic-stricken girls did not think of. There was an opening in the roof which they could have easily reached from a bench standing beside the wall and once on the roof they could have reached other buildings with perfect ease. A fact already [illegible] this the lost all their lives.

The fire was almost instantaneous. The wooden stairway around the elevator shaft is not burned, so as to be useless or unsafe, yet flames seem to have pervaded all the floors, and to have run through all the paper and other light combustible matter. Mr. Sullivan estimates his loss at $9,000 or $10,000, with ample insurance. The loss to the building is slight.

THE DEAD AND INJURED.

The scenes at Habig's undertaking establishment, where the bodies were taken and where friends and relatives came to identify them, were of the most painful character. In one case a [illegible] Covington, Kentucky, identified his sisters, Lizzie and Dollie Handel, who were twins. Mrs. Mehr found the body of her daughter and had to be held [illegible] from the terrible sight. Mrs. [illegible] her had the awful experience of finding her [illegible] daughters among the dead.

The full list is as follows: [illegible] aged 40, wife of [illegible] No. 76 Lock street; Dollie and Lizzie Handel, twin sisters, 20 years, No. 71 Scott street, Covington; Fannie Jones, 22 years, corner Liberty and Freeman streets; Delia, Katie and Mary Lawler, sisters, aged 23, 14 and 11, respectively, No. 28 Sixth street; Katie Lowry, [illegible] years, Newport, Kentucky; Lizzie Meyers, [illegible] years, No. [illegible] Broadway; Annie McIntyre, [illegible] years, No. [illegible] East Sixth street; Emma Norton, [illegible] years; Katie and May Putnam, sisters, [illegible] respectively; John Sullivan, [illegible] years, No. [illegible] Broadway; Belle Wynn, [illegible] years, No. 88 East Fifth street.

The injured are: Will Fisher, printer, [illegible] Fifth street, Covington, Kentucky, crushed and burned, will probably die; Josie Hawke, [illegible] broken leg; Emma Hinchback, Covington, unconscious, will probably die; Nannie Shepherd, head badly cut; lives on Harrison street.

A ready [illegible] preparations are in progress for relief of the families of the victims, most of whom were the support of dependent parents.

RAILROAD NOTES.

[illegible] PACIFIC MAIL TROUBLE [illegible] SETTLED.

NEW YORK, May 21.—[Special.]—Kiernan's news agency sent out the following this afternoon: An important meeting of Pacific Mail directors was held at noon today at Russell Sage's office. C. P. Huntington made a proposition to reduce the subsidy paid by the railroads to $85,000 per month. This was fully discussed by the directors and [illegible] agreed to. This is a compromise by both parties. With the old amount of subsidy less [illegible] company received but [illegible] will give them [illegible].

As the reporter approached C. P. Huntington's rooms, Jay Gould was seen hurrying into his private office. Huntington could not be seen and his secretary refused either to deny or affirm the report. It is generally believed in Wall street that the long-standing trouble has been finally settled. Some surprise is felt at the result, as up to last Saturday both the railway and steamship directors firmly declared they would not yield an inch.

THE VILAS CIRCULAR.

New York Times (Mugwump Democrat).

It is probable that the chief substantial result of this circular is the plan unfolded in it be carried out, will be a valuable but tedious and costly process of education for the new postmaster-general. He is likely to learn before he gets through with it that members of congress, who represent districts or sections, are not the guileless and trustworthy persons they ought to be, and that his obviously excellent purpose will be exposed to deceptions, miscarriages in their advice and judgment. [illegible] followed.

Philadelphia Press (Rep.)

The confidential circular issued by Postmaster-General Vilas will be read with interest by those who still believe in the sincerity of the administration's civil service reform promises. The [illegible] [illegible] democratic members of congress in Ohio, Indiana and Virginia, and Mr. Vilas was considerably disconcerted when [illegible] [illegible] be known. And while he might be [illegible] it exposes effectually the hollowness of the [illegible] pretenses of Mr. Cleveland and his [illegible]. Mr. Vilas and his party must be blind indeed if they think the public can be deceived by shallow pretenses. It would be more honorable and better politics for him to admit the situation frankly and say that the democrats have fought for twenty-four years for the spoils and now that they were in power, the administration could not, if it would, and would not, if it could, keep them from enjoying the object of their long toil.

New York Evening Post (Mugwump).

There are, it seems to us, two mistakes in the circular. One is in marking it "Confidential." It is absurd to suppose that a document of this kind, touching so important [illegible] public business all over the country could be kept private. It was accordingly in all the newspapers a fortnight after its [illegible] [illegible] marking it confidential made it look as though there was something in it which it was desirable to keep [illegible]. The second mistake is sending the circular to members of congress and supposing that any valid testimony as to fitness of candidates can be obtained from them or any trustworthy advice touching the merits of local office-holders. As a rule they are the very worst counselors an appointing officer can have, because nineteen out of every hundred of them are far more interested in building up some kind of local machine of their own than in making an efficient service.

Springfield Republican (Mugwump).

Mr. Vilas has placed himself too much in the hands of the democratic congressmen [illegible] distributors of patronage [illegible] lessly political partisanship and clannish [illegible] In the two respects [illegible] avowed reliance upon the congressmen and [illegible] Mr. Vilas is [illegible] wholly at variance with the purposes and methods of the [illegible] administration [illegible] He would have done better [illegible] counsel of Mr. Cleveland's way when [illegible] confidently that he was the [illegible] [illegible] the administration [illegible] partisans [illegible] offensive partisans [illegible]

New York Tribune (Rep.)

The president was [illegible] His noisy partisans are now [illegible] styling him "Old Hickory" and prating [illegible] Jacksonian principles. This will not [illegible] with the working democracy [illegible] and [illegible] Jefferson [illegible] practical politician who knew the worth of offices and reduced politics to the level of a common sense trade. The publication of the postmaster general's circular will encourage all veteran democrats to hope that Jackson's ideas respecting spoils are to prevail under the present administration.

CALIFORNIA.

[illegible] WITH DEFRAUDING STOCKHOLDERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—[Special.]—Charles J. MacDermot, a wealthy mining operator and former president of the California Safe Deposit and Trust company of this city, is charged with having swindled John P. Bradley and others, for merly holders in the Cabooze mine [illegible] Mexico, out of a large sum of money. MacDermot was empowered by the shareholders to sell the entire stock of 120,000 shares. He telegraphed from New York where he went to sell that he could get [illegible] a share, and [illegible] shareholders instructed him to sell. Bradley now states that MacDermot received $[illegible] a share instead of $1 [illegible] which he only accounted for. He says he knows this to be the case, as it was agreed between MacDermot and himself that if the sale of 120,000 shares was made at $1.50 they would account to the other stockholders at $1.00 and divide the $60,000 of [illegible] between themselves. Bradley alleges that MacDermot did not adhere to the agreement but [illegible] the [illegible] himself. MacDermot's [illegible] whereabouts is unknown. Suit will be brought against him to recover the amount.

MRS. SHARON TRIES TO SHOOT A MAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—[Special.]—The Alta this morning publishes an account of a scene which took place Monday last between Mrs. Hill Sharon and Reuben H. Lloyd, in which the former insisted on his publicly denying insinuations made of improper relations having existed between them. Lloyd, it appears, declined to comply with her request. This so enraged the lady that she whipped out a revolver, but before she had time to use it Lloyd jumped into an adjoining room and slammed the door between them, springing the latch as he did so. Finding it impossible to reach Mr. Lloyd, she quietly left the building. The Alta also publishes the text of an appeal alleged to have been made by Mrs. Hill Sharon to the Masons and Odd Fellows of the state in which she begs them to use their influence to induce Mr. Lloyd to testify to the truth of her assertions. The appeal is dated May [illegible] and signed Mrs. William Sharon, nee Hill.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE LAND OFFICES.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—[Special.]—There are [illegible] land offices in the country, the great majority of which are located in California, Oregon, Colorado, Minnesota, Kansas and the territories. Each office is entitled to a register and receiver whose respective salaries range from $3000 to $1500 per annum. The recent announcement by General Sparks that territorial offices would not necessarily be filled by residents of the territory is expected to give a tremendous impetus to the filing of applications. General Sparks says the demand for these positions is already greatly in excess of anything ever expected. For the 216 places there are nearly [illegible] applications, while each mail adds a dozen at least.

"Will you be guided by any special standard of excellence in filling these places?" was asked of the commissioner today.

"The prime recommendation in all cases will be steady, uncompromising honesty," he replied. "The positions are such that any person of good business ability can fill them. There is no trouble on that score, but the man who expects to represent the government in this capacity must have a clear record. Political influence alone will avail nothing. Honesty is the prime qualification."

"You say in your order that appointees will not necessarily be taken from the territory where they reside. On the other hand, will their residence militate against them?"

"No, no. It is rather a point in their favor. We prefer western men for these places."

"Will you make this a rule?"

"Not at all, an appointee is as liable to be chosen from New England as from the northwest. There will be no geographical distinction."

CHANGE IN THE MAIL SERVICE TO PORTLAND.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—[Special.]—Second Assistant Postmaster General Knott has ordered the discontinuance of the steamship mail service between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon, after the 17th prox. Mails between these points with the exception of registered matter, will be sent over the Oregon and California railroad and the [illegible] and Oregon railroad, which will be connected by a stage line about 123 miles in length. The present schedule between San Francisco and Portland allows ninety-three hours for the trip, while the new service is expected to put San Francisco mails into Portland in fifty-six hours, and reduce the expenses for the service by $12,000 per annum. Registered mail will be sent in ninety-three hours, via Pocatello, Idaho, and Umatilla, Oregon. It is not regarded as entirely safe to send this class of matter over stage lines.

SENSATION IN A CHURCH.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—[Special.]—Dr. Sunderland's church is usually crowded and standing room in the aisles even is at a premium. When recently a pew in front of that occupied by the president became vacant there was naturally unusual anxiety on the part of several prominent members of the church to secure this sitting. On Sunday morning the audience was a good deal excited over the discovery that Frederick Douglass, recorder of deeds of the district, and his white wife were occupants of the coveted sitting, and it was then made public for the first time that they had rented this pew. After services many members of the congregation met to discuss the incident. There was a considerable show of feeling. The matter is exciting much attention, and members are annoyed over the fact that Dr. Sunderland after service greeted Mr. Douglass with apparent cordiality.

ROACH IN HARD LUCK.

NEW YORK, May 21.—[Special.]—"The failure of the Dolphin," said an old government contractor this morning, "will be a very serious matter to John Roach. It will mean his permanent retirement. There is a rule applying to all kinds of government work which provides that when a man has once failed to fulfill a contract he is barred from ever receiving another. John Roach will be permanently shut out on government contracts, unless he [illegible] up the Dolphin business. If I am not mistaken there is an old law of congress on which this rule is based. Its strict enforcement will create consternation among a certain class of old bidders."

AN APPEAL FOR EX-SOLDIERS.

Cleveland and Manning Asked to Enforce Laws Passed for their Protection.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A delegation representing the Grand Army of the Republic of the department of Pennsylvania and the Veterans' Rights Union called on the president, Secretary Manning and General Black, commissioner of pensions, today in the interest of the enforcement of laws relating to the appointment and retention of ex-soldiers in the civil service of the United States. In their interview with the president the delegation asked that the law giving preference to ex-Union soldiers shall be enforced wherever removals are made, and that wherever reductions of the force are made the law of 1876, which provides that in the making of any reduction in force in any of the departments reasons may be given. The president in reply assured the delegation that he desired to do all that can be done for the old soldiers, that as president it is his duty to see all the laws of the United States enforced, and that he recognizes the claims of old soldiers on the government, but he said it is impossible for him to give his attention to individual cases. The delegation then asked that he allow the privilege of laying before him by letter or otherwise violations of the laws in question which shall come under their notice, and they asked further that when such cases are brought to his attention he give them immediate consideration. The president cordially assented to these requests and said he would be glad at any time to receive any communication from them and would give all the[m] communications proper attention.

The delegation called on Colonel Lamont, the president's private secretary, and informed him of what had been said at the interview with the president and obtained from him assurance that he would promptly lay before the president any communication from them.

AN APPEAL TO MANNING.

The delegation saw Secretary Manning and called his attention to the laws to which they had directed the president's notice. They also called attention especially to the removal of the assistant custodian of the Philadelphia postoffice building, an ex-soldier, and the appointment of a civilian to succeed him.

Secretary Manning in reply, said that the department would respect the laws in question, that the spirit of those laws met his hearty approval, but he said ex-Union soldiers who had been offensively partisan should not expect to be retained in office, that they took their chances in the last presidential election.

The delegation replied that they realized this fact, but that they asked, in filling vacancies created by such removals, preference be given to ex-Union soldiers over civilians.

Mr. Manning gave cordial assent to the proposal, but added that there are a great many honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who have never been recognized in the distribution of offices in the last twenty years, men who are democrats, and who, although ex-soldiers and ex-sailors, some of them bearing wounds received in the defense of their country, have never got into office. He said the claims of these men would be recognized by the department in filling vacancies caused by removals for offensive partisanship.

CANT OF TRIAL.

New York Tribune.

The country is getting near the end of a reign of Cant. About once in a generation the dear people allow themselves to be fooled for a time by a set of hypocrites, who pretend to be holier than everybody else, and to have a tremendously powerful scent for frauds. These creatures make it the chief end in life to serve the cause of what they call "reform," by slandering worthier men than themselves. In time they get the ear of the multitude. Some of them are trusted, and prove both incompetent and dishonest. Then the cause of sham "reform" begins to wane, and the professional reformers generally transfer themselves from the party which has tried them and found them out to the other party which wants place and any price. If the other party gets in the country then gets an exact measure of the apostles of Cant. It is this sort of party they have been willing to help, under pretense of seeking "reform" and how either inflated vanity or self-interest rather than concern for public welfare usually governs the professional reformers. In a short time the public become supremely disgusted with the Cant of reform and its apostles and they are tumbled into a ditch until a new generation comes up which has its same lesson yet to learn.

Mr. Cleveland's administration is teaching the country what sort of "reform" was sought and promised by the apostles of Cant at the last election. We see the lowest and most dishonorable of all the former rebels selected for honor, because they are the lowest and most dishonorable. We see the [illegible] and most malignant copperheads picked out, not for any merit, but because in times [illegible] they were mean and many malignant, they were the meanest and the most malignant. We see trained men of rare accomplishments turned out to make room for creatures of the "Nick" Bell and Higgins variety. We see a person preferred [illegible] to Nagasaki, because he was both a rebel and a blackguard. We see [illegible] power all this promotion of the basest and [illegible] the name of "reform" enthusiastically [illegible] by the Times and the Post, Beecher and Schurz and the other apostles of Cant.

It will not take the country very long to get so disgusted with the professional "reformers" and the [illegible] of reform that there will be an end [illegible] and of the party which they helped by peddling slanders. The country sees that the republican party which was pronounced too foul to live had conducted the public service so well that democrats are forced to imitate its methods and to borrow its ideas; that it had filled the service with officials so worthy and capable that a democratic administration cannot get along without them, and can find no pretext for removing one in a hundred of them. That is the party which the apostles of Cant called corrupt. Mr. Cleveland's is the party from which they expected glorious "reform."

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1885.

AN ISSUE THAT WILL NOT DOWN.

The question is sometimes put to those republicans who protest against the domination of the confederate south, "Don't you know the war is over?" Again, "Why are you looking backward all the time, rather than forward? Why try to keep northern sentiment in a state of inflammation against the south? Would it not be more patriotic to let oblivion cover the past?"

This appeal should be addressed to southern democrats rather than to northern republicans. The war is not over, nor will it be over, so long as the sixteen states of the south remain organized in a solid political body upon the reminiscences of the war. There are sixteen states moved by the memories, actuated by the resentments of the war; they plump their one hundred and fifty-three electoral votes every time under that inspiration; and under it, moreover, they send up to Washington their one hundred and fifty-three senators and representatives to control the legislation of the country. It would be right, and even necessary, to protest against this, even if it were an honest expression of the popular will of the sixteen states; but when the monstrous iniquity of the system by which the states of the confederacy have thrust themselves into power is considered, there is every reason for continual denunciation both of the system and of its results.

This is an issue that will not down. It can not be brushed aside. It is the paramount question of our politics and will remain such till the wrong involved in it is righted. "This is the feeling retained since the war by the republican party" to which that renegade organ, the New York Times, alludes, when it denounces General Logan and exclaims against his election in the senate. In the sixteen states of the south there are no elections—only a count. Even now their one hundred and fifty-three electoral votes are counted for 1888, and no contest for them will be permitted. We repeat that this is an issue that will not down till it is settled in accord with right and justice; and that it may be so decided the republican party will appeal again and again for a verdict to the enlightened conscience of the country. Meantime the question whether the war is over or not—if any one wants to ask it—should be put to the organized confederacy of the sixteen southern states.

LAW AND ORDER LEAGUES.

In Massachusetts, as in many other states, it has been found to be impossible to prevent the illegal selling of intoxicating drinks, by the regular machinery of the state, and therefore a law and order league has been formed by public spirited individuals to compel the enforcement of law. The league has just made, through its executive committee, its first annual report, which shows that it has succeeded in having 177 persons prosecuted in the lower court, 131 being convicted and 131 appealed to the superior court. The league also obtained several verdicts in behalf of women under the civil damage law. It has devoted itself to no other work than the enforcement of such liquor laws as are on the statute book. It asks for no further repressive legislation on the ground that until the present laws are enforced it is useless to add laws that nominally prescribe severer penalties. This league insists that law as law shall be obeyed, but want no legislation in advance of public sentiment.

All these purposes are of course legitimate and commendable, and they appear to have resulted in some good. But as the Providence Journal says, "there is something rotten in the state of Denmark when an ultra-legal, self-constituted irresponsible body of men is necessary to the enforcement of law, which, being the voice of the state, is theoretically upheld, sustained and maintained by the machinery of the state. The state is sovereign. It declares the law; it provides courts, police, jails. It undertakes to carry out its own proclaimed will. It can, in the last resort, summon every one of its citizens to enforce its law. Is not this enough? Theoretically, yes! But not enough in regard to certain laws, because the officers of the law will not enforce the law; and because the apathy as to, or the opposition to the law of the people permits this infidelity to authority to be open and efficient. The fact of the existence of a law and order league is a reproach either to the legislators or to the people. No law should be passed which is not sensible and just. No law should be violated with impunity. And here again we strike deeper than law or league. It all comes back at last, as in the matter of education, to the judgment and conscience of the community. Unless these are sound, nothing will much avail."

The appointment of Henry M. Stanley to be the governor of the Congo state, recently created at a conference of the powers at Berlin, shows that a great career is still possible to enterprising young men. Sixteen years ago Mr. Stanley, then a newspaper correspondent, accepted a commission to organize an expedition to search for Dr. Livingstone in the wilderness of central Africa. Now he is the governor of a state one-third as large in area as the whole United States including Alaska, with a coast-line of 400 miles on the Atlantic and an outlet on the Indian ocean, and 900 miles of uninterrupted navigation on the Congo and 3000 miles on tributary streams. The population of the Congo basin has been variously estimated, but 80,000,000 is regarded as a low estimate, and Stanley himself years ago described these people as "literally hungering for commerce." Trade will be free along this vast expanse of territory, which extends from the mouth to the sources of the Congo; from Quelle, four degrees above the equator, down to the sources of the Zambesi, twelve degrees below the equator. Ivory, metals and oils are the chief products. To be thus influentially connected with the opening of the dark continent to civilization is one of the greatest honors of the century.

Mott, the Kansas City medium who was tried for obtaining money under false pretenses, was discharged by the court on the ground that the complainants were not deceived by his claims; that they paid their money, not to see spirits, but to expose a humbug. At the same time the judge says that the complainants "demonstrated beyond the possibility of a doubt that the defendant was a fraud." This decision is based upon a quotation from a case in the first volume of American criminal reports that "the false pretense must be relied on by the party claiming to have been defrauded, as true."

At the close of 1883 there were 1300 co-operative societies in England and 278 in Scotland. The membership was 571,512 in England and 102,343 in Scotland, the balance of [illegible] being in Wales and Ireland. The total share capital was $38,504,175 ($5 to the pound), that on loan $7,692,720—a total of $46,196,895. The sale of goods for the year reached the total $140,495,350, on which amount a profit of $11,-593,465 was had. This makes an average profit of 23 per cent., which returns to the pockets of the wage-working consumers.

A Washington special says: "The Union Pacific, which controls the Oregon Short Line, wants to carry over that line a good deal of mail to the extreme northwest, which the Northern Pacific is now carrying, and it is about to ask the department to change the distribution of Transcontinental mails, so that it will get more and its competitors will get less. These propositions have not yet got before the department."

There will be music in the air next December when the senate comes to consider some of the "offensive partisan" appointments which the president is now making.

Coming Home to Die.

At a period of life when budding womanhood requires all her strength to meet the demands nature makes upon it, many a young woman returns home from the severe mental strain of school with a broken-down constitution, and her functions disarranged, to go to an early grave. If she had been wisely counseled and given the benefit of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" her bodily development might have kept pace with her mental growth, and health and beauty would not have given way to decline and death.

TROUBLE IN THE COURT.

Democratic Spoils Hunters Going for Each Other's Scalps.

IOWA BOSSES IN A RAGE.

DES MOINES, IA., May 15.—The leading democrats of Iowa, particularly of the southern half of the state, are in a white heat of passion over President Cleveland's appointment of a United States marshal for the southern district of Iowa. The ring, composed of the four democratic congressmen and a few other influential democrats, have tried to control the federal patronage of the state, hardly deigning to acquaint even President Cleveland with their plans. At a conference in Chicago a slate was prepared which it was announced the president would ratify at the asking. To the great disgust of the self-appointed office brokers, the president has smashed the slate to pieces in the first appointment he has made. The bosses have determined to make war on the president. Petitions to have the appointment revoked and given to Campbell are being circulated in this city, and several protests have already been sent to Washington. The bosses openly announced their determination to fight the president to the end, and declare that if he can get along without their help he shall have a chance to try the experiment. The people generally are well pleased with the appointment of Williams and are glad to see the discomfiture of the selfish and arrogant ring. The public sentiment is generally with President Cleveland, even though the leaders threaten to make the biggest row in the democratic party ever known in Iowa, and test what is said of Mr. Cleveland's firmness and determination. It is not thought he will be moved by the bluster of the bosses.

The president has since surrendered to the spoils ring, has revoked the appointment of Williams and given the office to Campbell. It is the most notable sign yet presented that Cleveland will soon fall completely into the hands of the managing politicians and spoils element of his party. If he could not resist the two democratic congressmen from Iowa who are now in Washington—Weaver and Frederick—and the telegrams and letters sent to him by a few Iowa politicians, it is not reasonable to presume that he will hold out against the democratic senators and members combined when they assemble in Washington next winter and demand in one loud voice that the spoils shall be distributed among the victors.]

THE RACKET IN LOUISIANA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—The split between the factions into which the Louisiana Democracy is divided widens. Senator Eustis has gone to Rome, but the fight is being carried on from his side by James G. Houston, who makes an elaborate reply to the recent statements by Senator Gibson, Representatives Floyd King and others. Houston says: "I am prepared to prove that Gibson has been since 1870 an office seeker, and he has always been elected by ballot box stuffing. I charge, and can establish that W. D. Kernochan, whom Gibson had appointed naval officer, is a [illegible] of the worst description; that during one of Gibson's campaigns for congress he hired a steamboat and brass band, loaded the boat with the worst toughs and hoodlums he could find in the slums of New Orleans and transported them to a point in another (Plaquemines) parish. There was a free bar and a free lunch, and in recognition of this picnic the ruffians drove away the honest voters, captured the poll and carried the parish for Gibson. God save the people from such reform. Nowhere save in Washington would the charge be made that I have slandered General Gibson. No such charge is made, because I would pile up the evidence so high that when I got through it would look like a mountain of corruption. This last attack on me I think was inspired by the Louisiana sweeping militia general, J. Floyd King, who, I see, is in Washington. He never had a command, but got his title from Governor John McEnery, who was de jure governor in 1872-76, and gave away commissions quite freely. I have been told by gentlemen, who will substantiate their assertions, that King attempted, while a candidate for congress in the fifth Louisiana district, to lead the white men in their struggle to protect their wives and daughters from outrage at the hands of negroes, but that when the actual fighting began he went to the campaign committee with tears in his eyes and asked them to accept his resignation. They told him to calm himself and go home, which, I am told, he did, crawled under the bed and pulled the cover down to the floor on the side nearest the door, remaining there until danger was over. A general, forsooth! I am lost in surprise that he should indulge in the criticism upon bulldozing and ward politicians, when he has never been honestly elected to congress in his life, and I am prepared to prove it."

CLEVELAND DEMOCRATS KICKING.

CLEVELAND, O., May 15.—The nomination of Joseph M. Poe to be appraiser of customs has caused a vast deal of dissatisfaction among the local democracy, with whom Poe was far from popular. Charles Cleveland, a nephew of the president, was strongly urged for the place by Congressman Foran and others, and his defeat is regarded as a victory for the Payne element over that of Foran. Mr. Foran said to a reporter today: "I want the people to know that I am protesting against the appointment of Poe. He is unfit and undeserving of the office, and his appointment is in contrariety with the policy which seeks to put experienced men who are identified with mercantile pursuits in such positions. I think that thousands of local democrats would sign a petition protesting against Poe, who may be able to tell the difference between good and rotten potatoes, but who knows nothing about United States customs. Upon hearing of Poe's appointment while at Columbus, I telegraphed the president as follows:

"COLUMBUS, O., May 12, 1885.

Hon. Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, Washington: The evening dispatches say that Joseph M. Poe has been appointed appraiser of customs at Cleveland. If this be true, I most emphatically protest against the appointment, and respectfully request that a commission be not issued until the people of Cleveland, to whom the appointment will be pre-eminently unsatisfactory, because of his manifest unfitness, can be heard from. M. A. FORAN."

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO A REQUEST TO "HURRY UP."

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A New York democratic congressman, whose name is withheld, went to the White House some days ago and "gave the president a piece of his mind" on the subject of federal appointments in his district. Among other things, he is reported to have said: "I do not suppose that I shall improve my chances of recognition by this visit, but I felt it to be a duty that I owed to you as well as myself. Some appointments have already been made in my district, all of them without any reference to my opinions or wishes. The men selected may be democrats, but they are not democrats who have rendered the party any service, so far as I have been able to discover. Now there are plenty of good men in the district—men in every way as good and well qualified as the men who have received appointments—who are democrats and have been of service to their party. I desire to say to you that such appointments as have been made in my district have produced much discontent, and that has been aggravated somewhat by the retention in office of republicans."

It is reported that at this stage the president remarked: "I have heard all this scores of times, and I am getting tired of it. There are complaints because I do not turn out every republican officeholder immediately. People seem to forget that this is a big country and that the machinery of this great government cannot be overturned in a week or month. I am doing the best that I can and I am weary of the constant repetition of these same complaints."

HATTON ON THE VILAS CIRCULAR.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Ex-Postmaster General Frank Hatton talked very freely to-day about Postmaster General Vilas' circular of April 20 in respect to the removal of postmasters. He said: "The circular is marked confidential, and, evidently from its date, has been given away by some one, doubtless a democrat, who is dissatisfied with Mr. Vilas' course. I do not see anything very remarkable in the circular, taking it from a democratic standpoint. No republican of principle could hold office under a democratic administration and preserve his political integrity. The circular says charges must be justified, and the persons selected to fill the places beyond criticism. Justifiable charges can easily be found when wanted. Mr. Vilas says: 'I will require no more proof of partisanship in these cases than the affirmation of knowledge on the part of a representative or senator that the person has been a partisan.' You may make an estimate of the removals will be general in the course of a short time. The democrats will not see the necessity for it, but by the exercise of power they can prevent it. Looking at Mr. Vilas' circular from this standpoint I can see nothing in it but what must please the independents. It is only a matter of time until it goes far enough to please the democrats."

DISSATISFIED MISSOURIANS.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Missouri senators are made the target, just now, of much unfavorable criticism on the part of their constituents. The cause for all this is to be found in the fact that F. B. Ewing, Senator Cockrell's brother-in-law, was appointed the other day coast-guard in the City of Mexico, and that Senator Vest's son was given a sort of roving commission by Secretary Bayard to serve in consulates where he might be taught diplomacy. Missourians do not take kindly to such conduct. They think that Messrs. Vest and Cockrell ought to look out for other democrats besides those bearing their own names.

presents were numerous, useful and ornamental. At a late hour the guests departed, many of them taking home some "bride cake" to put under their pillows in the hope of alluring dream-land fairies to whisper of bliss to be, or to recall what once had been. Dr. and Mrs. McCauley leave this morning for their future home at Brownsville.

THE KEADY LAW COMPLETE.

CORVALLIS, May 20, 1885.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:—No deficiency is yet apparent in the Keady law, notwithstanding repeated assertions to the contrary.

It provides for the repeal of acts or parts of acts conflicting with it, and as only a part, viz: the phrase, "passed January 18th, 1884," of section 724 of the Criminal Code, is in such conflict, it follows that such phrase alone is repealed.

The section as it then stands, and as it will be in force after the 20th inst., provides all the penalty necessary for the crime of selling without a license.

The course of the saloon keepers in taking out licenses is only another instance where discretion is the better part of valor.

By the way, what portion of the Keady law do you call "sentimental legislation," and of what does the sentiment consist? You have advised local option. Is it not purely local option?

WAITING FOR EXTRADITION PAPERS.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—F. L. O'Neil, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who is one of the agents of the state of Missouri, commissioned to go to Auckland, New Zealand, to bring back to this country Maxwell, the Englishman who murdered Preller, in the Southern hotel, St. Louis, arrived in this city to-day to await the signing of the extradition papers. The papers have not reached the state department.

The Tacoma people who attempted to "jump" the San Juan lime quarries have found it unhealthy business and have abandoned their plan.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A WEIRD VERDICT REVERSED.—The supreme court, a day or two since, dismissed the case of Henry Weiner vs Quon Wo On and Ah [illegible] appealed from this county. The case was brought by Henry Weiner as assignee of W. S. Beebe, to recover $1000 for "professional services rendered." Beebe testified that he agreed with defendants to procure a lease of a lot 100 feet square, at the corner of Oak and Second streets, from Henry Weinhardt, and to negotiate a loan of $15,000 for them. Mr. Weinhardt refused several times to lease his ground to Chinamen, but at last, to put an end to the matter, as he testified, told Beebe that he would lease the lot for a term of twenty years at $[illegible] pay able monthly in advance, provided he received $5000 down before signing the lease and that he should not be to loan Quon Wo On $15,000 when they should have the building completed. As they wished the loan to build the building with, it might naturally be supposed that such an arrangement would hardly prove satisfactory. But Beebe considered that he had fulfilled his contract, and through his assignee Weiner sued for the $1000. The member of the firm who was alleged to have made the agreement with Beebe, testified that he never visited Beebe's office, but his testimony was overpowered by that of L. Besser and Joe Ladd, an opium fiend who was ostensibly studying law with Beebe, but whose principal avocation seems to have been borrowing works from lawyers and forgetting to return them. Weiner testified that he had no interest in the case except that Beebe had agreed to pay him for his services out of the sum recovered. The evidence in the case showed that about all the grounds on which the claim for $1000 was based was that Beebe had agreed to secure a lease of the lot and a loan of the money, but he laid no claim to having done this service, and on this ground the case was dismissed by the supreme court. It was a matter of astonishment to all concerned when the jury in the court here found a verdict for the plaintiff, and it was supposed that the verdict would have been set aside. The case has been effectually disposed of now, and the parties who sought to make something by it are out the costs and charges, and Chinamen feel satisfied that the [illegible] obtain justice in the supreme court.

FILED HIS BOND.—Ex-Governor John Whiteaker filed his official bond yesterday with United States Commissioner Dawson as collector of internal revenue for this district in the sum of $75,000. His sureties are R. Killin, D. P. Thompson, F. [illegible] Kearney, Louis [illegible] John Catlin and I. M. Richardson. These sureties were approved by United States District Attorney Watson and the bond will at once be sent on to Washington to be approved by the proper officials there, after which the commission will be forwarded. Mr. Whiteaker has made arrangements to take charge of the office on the 1st of July. One of the bondsmen informed a reporter that there were four democrats on the bond, and each of them wrote his own name, or what he alleged to be his name. One of them said he went on the bond because Honest John would not steal anything, and if he would there was no chance for him to steal much in this office, and also because [illegible] if any one asked him to go on a bond he could say "I am on one now for $75,000."

USING THE HORSE FAST.—A well known Chinese contractor tells the following good story on himself. When Henry Weiner was acting as collector of Chinese poll taxes this contractor was shipping a band of Chinese laborers to some point on the railroad when Weiner pounced on them and demanded their taxes. The contractor paid for all except a boy of sixteen, but Weiner insisted that the lad was of age and demanded his tax. A dispute arose, and Weiner and the contractor made a bet of $2 50 as to the boy's age. The money was placed in the hands of one of Weiner's friends, and another was called upon as a doctor to decide the bet. He made the boy open his mouth, and after examining his teeth pronounced him 22 years of age. The stakeholder at once paid the stakes over to Weiner and the gang adjourned to a saloon to drink at the expense of the outwitted contractor. The latter has cut several wisdom teeth since that time, and Weiner knows it.

SOLD IT TOO CHEAP.—One day last week Capt. Holman sent his lawn mower to the shop of M. [illegible] Morgan, No. 13 Washington street, for repairs. It was ready by Saturday, but was not called for that day as expected. Monday a man came in and said "What's the charges on that?" pointing to the mower. Morgan, thinking he represented the owner, told him the amount was $1. Some time after the man returned, paid the $3, and shouldering the mower, marched up the street. Not long after the owner came for his machine, and then it dawned upon Morgan that he had sold another man's $12 mower too cheap. Perhaps the purchaser had no evil intentions, in which case he will no doubt return the mower and receive back his $3.

IMPROVING THE VANCOUVER ROAD.—By the aid of the military authorities at Vancouver, the county road between East Portland and Albina and Vancouver is being put in splendid order. Mr. Scott, the road supervisor of the district, will gravel the road during the coming summer all the way from East Portland and Albina to the bridge over the Columbia river bottom. This improvement is needed to accommodate the large travel now passing along the road, over 100 passengers going daily by stage alone. With about 40,000 people in and about Portland, and about one-tenth of that number in and about Vancouver, a motor line of railway similar to those running to the presidio and the park in San Francisco, ought to pay handsomely on its cost.

WANTS TO GET OUT.—Ah Lawrence has evidently not discovered that he has been discharged by the supreme court, as he has written to Jailer Dougherty, asking him to intercede with Superintendent Collins of the penitentiary to have Ah put at work in the brickyard, in order, as he says, "that I could get two days for one." He also requests that his friend Bob Dorner send him some writing paper and stamps, "for prisoners are allowed only one paper and stamp per month." He states that Blexam "is looking pretty good." He signs himself [illegible] to friend Edward Lawrence," and in a postscript urges Dougherty to write [illegible] Ah seems to be in a hurry to get back to Portland.

DISAPPEARED.—George Weller, formerly an employe of the Multnomah street railway company, left his home, corner B and Eleventh streets, at [illegible] Wednesday evening, and has not since been heard of. He has for some time been suffering from spells of temporary derangement, and while in one of these wandered off. His family is anxious about him, fearing that in his present condition he may meet with some fatal mishap. He is about 40 years of age, slightly gray, [illegible] He wore black pants, [illegible] vest [illegible] white shirt. He also had [illegible] watch, steel watch chain, and [illegible] As a further mark of [illegible]

COULD NOT BE RAISED.—The effort to raise the sunken steamer City of Salem was unsuccessful, Captain Spencer having given up the job yesterday. She was raised slightly by means of barges, but this only lifted her off the rock which held her up and she sank again into about fifteen feet of water. She is in almost the same [illegible] [illegible] that the old Bonanza was in, [illegible] the same cause, viz: No beach on which to [illegible] her [illegible] The boat was fastened as firmly as possible and will be [illegible] until other vessels, which [illegible]

UNEXPECTED DEATH.—The death of Joseph [illegible] rep[illegible] in THE OREGONIAN [illegible] from Spokane Falls, will [illegible] to his many friends and [illegible] No news of his dangerous [illegible] had been publicly received here, and the [illegible] of his suffering brings an additional shock. [illegible] He leaves a wife and two children, [illegible] [illegible] The jury deliberated [illegible] and late at night returned a [illegible] verdict.

TAKEN IN BY THE LAW.—J. Bleiman was arrested yesterday on a charge of larceny by bailee preferred by Ernest Werner, manager of the South Portland vinegar factory. The complaint accuses Bleiman with converting to his own use $10 collected on bills entrusted to his care by Werner.

[illegible] [illegible] sidewalk and the walls extended to [illegible] with the brick front. This will make two very commodious stores, and will [illegible] twenty porches 25x1[illegible] feet in front of the second stories. The building when [illegible] will present some new features [illegible]

FIRST TRICYCLE.—A tricycle was [illegible] here from the east yesterday, the first of these machines ever brought to Oregon. It attracted considerable attention as it stood [illegible] walk on First street. It was ordered for the use of Mrs. Merrill, wife of the well known bicyclist. Although it is the first brought here every one is familiar with the appearance of the machine from pictures of it which are to be seen in eastern and English papers. The wheels are not so high as the ordinary bicycle [illegible] can not run quite so fast.

HARNESS THIEF CAUGHT.—Henry Hall, alias Stedman, was arrested yesterday by Policeman Kelly while trying to dispose of a stolen harness. He had stolen two sets of harness, one from the barn of Mr. Daley at Hillsboro, and the other from Ted Holman's barn near Reedville. When he reached Portland he put up at the Oregon hotel, and in the morning started out to dispose of the stolen harnesses. One set he sold to T. Kiter, and was bargaining about the other when he was caught.

THOSE THIEVES IN ROUTE.—Sheriff Martin of Umatilla county came down from Pendleton yesterday, having in charge two men sentenced to the penitentiary for stock stealing. They were taken up to Salem on the afternoon train. Their names are W. A. Bigelow and W. Wiley, and they are sentenced respectively to terms of six and two years imprisonment.

TRYING TO ESCAPE PUNISHMENT.—William McKinney, who was tried at the late circuit court at Dallas, Polk county, for stabbing Frank Post, was found guilty and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. However, his lawyers have given notice of an appeal to the supreme court, pending a decision from which the execution of the sentence is stayed.

TO-DAY, RAIN OR SHINE.—The steamer Multnomah will leave Morrison street wharf to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock for Latourelle falls, [illegible] Vancouver and LaCamas each way.

SALMAGUNDI

A salesman in a well known commission house of this city said yesterday: "Butter is coming in the same old way. Boot and shoe boxes and coal oil cases being the favorite style of package lined with old OREGONIANS, which are first-class in every way except for butter. I would like to send Mr. Knapp a package for inspection, and find out if possible what it is." Another commission man said that an inspector of Oregon butter is more needed now than one of oleomargarine. The foregoing is borne out by the fact that butter from well conducted dairies brings 16 cents a pound, while that which comes in coal oil cans can scarcely be sold at any price.

Gold seekers have discovered a new use for fowls, according to the Cheney Sentinel. It is a common sight there to see men and women carrying a hen under one arm and a basket of chickens under the other. When they reach their destination the hens are picketed, and being hungry scratch and eat. After two days honest toil they are killed and their craws are examined for gold. As much as $5 has been found in one craw. The fact that hens will pick up this bright substance has been fully demonstrated by the finding of a piece of gold the size of a pea in a hen's craw, near Medical Lake, by Mrs. Denny. These circumstances may lead to the discovery of gold in our midst, and we advise every one killing chickens to examine the [illegible] packages [illegible]

The Chehalis [illegible] says that one day last week two sloops containing between 25 and 30 Chinamen sailed into Gray's harbor and landed on the north side of the bay, in the vicinity of the Humtulips, and are supposed to be a party from British Columbia who are evading the law restricting Chinese immigration. The boundary line between the United States and the province, including the straits of Fuca, is so closely guarded by inspectors that the Mongols have doubtless resorted to the outside coast as a means of finding access to the United States, and in the absence of inspectors are so far successful.

James F. Hunt, who was arrested last week for appropriating funds belonging to Pierce county, W. T., to his own use, paid back the money taken by him and the costs in the case and the charges were withdrawn. Hunt says he has found out more law since his arrest than he ever knew before, and shudders when he thinks of how near he came to a term behind the prison bars. He pleaded ignorance, and anyone talking to him a few minutes could easily come to the conclusion that he did not plead falsely.

The Hillsboro correspondent of the [illegible] "Parson Brown" had in his last budget the following paragraph: "What is the matter with the [illegible] Every week regular it misses a day. Several subscribers have come to the Parson to learn cause." FATAL ACCIDENT

Captain W. [illegible] M'Callum of the British bark [illegible] was accidentally killed at [illegible] o'clock Wednesday evening, by falling from the dock at the [illegible] flouring mills where the ship was lying. He had gone on the wharf [illegible] for his [illegible] talking to the watchman on board [illegible] Haddingtonshire, which was lying close to the Alabama. In turning his foot caught against something in the darkness and he fell off the dock striking his head against the vessel on the [illegible] and stunning him when he fell into the water and sank. An alarm was given, lights and grappling hooks procured, and about fifty minutes after the body was recovered. The coroner was notified [illegible] took charge of the remains. An inquest was held the next morning [illegible] verdict [illegible] according with these facts. Captain McCallum was about [illegible] years old, unmarried and a native of Scotland. The bark, it will be remembered, is the vessel which made the long trip from Hongkong, being out from this port 140 days. Her cargo is almost completed and she was to sail in a few days for Liverpool. Captain McCallum is spoken of in very high terms by all with whom he associated [illegible] The funeral will [illegible] from Cooke's undertaking rooms [illegible] afternoon.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WASHINGTON.

Rev. Father Thomas, a new priest assigned to Vancouver, will arrive from Germany next week.

The settlers in Clark county are crowding over into the unsurveyed tracts in the foothills and the mountains, and are calling for surveys by the United States authorities.

Liquor sellers in Pacific county evade the efforts of the people there to close up saloons, by putting bars on boats and anchoring off shore in Baker's bay, where they sell in defiance of law.

The Chehalis [illegible] claims to have information that Chinamen from British Columbia are being brought into Gray's harbor by large sloops, and that between thirty-five and forty were brought in that way last Thursday.

Fraternal, benevolent, religious, political and numberless other societies prevail all over the world, but it remained for Olympia to effect a permanent organization to oppose all kinds of taxation for the support of common schools.

Memorial Day at Vancouver will be celebrated by the G. A. R., military, civic societies, firemen and citizens generally with exercises of unusual interest. General Nelson A. Miles will act as president of the day and Hon. H. Y. Thompson, of Portland, will deliver the address.

There is an unusual amount of prospecting in Oregon and Washington for quartz ledges this spring, with what success later developments will tell, but even now some are reported favorably. There is a growing faith that the future will develop many good ledges which will pay well and add largely to the present wealth of the coast.

Olympia [illegible] Mr. Ezra Meeker, during his recent visit to Germany, made a very thorough investigation of the methods of manufacturing beet sugar, and the profits arising from the business, and came home fully impressed with the practicability of the enterprise, and with the firm determination to inaugurate the movement for a manufactory in this section. He confesses himself an enthusiast upon the subject. It appears he has not been long in setting the ball in motion. The Post-Intelligencer says that Mr. Meeker, with T. M. Alvord and several other gentlemen, will organize a joint stock company next week for the purpose of erecting a beet-sugar factory on White river for the manufacture of beet sugar. Mr. Meeker has agitated this proposition for several years, and now feels confident that something will come of it.

OREGON.

The old St. Charles hotel at Eugene City is to be torn away and will be replaced by a brick building.

[illegible] W. Gray's residence at Salem was robbed by burglars last week. No great amount of booty was secured.

A cow owned by Mr. J. Despain was killed at Pendleton recently by a railroad train. Soon after a calf was taken from the carcass and is now alive and doing fairly.

On Sunday evening last the dwelling house belonging to J. C. Pennington and occupied by [illegible] Gardner and family, about one and a half miles south of McMinnville, burned to the ground.

Large numbers of salmon are speared at [illegible] the head gate of the Albany and Santiam water ditch. Large numbers of a new kind of [illegible] eight, ten and twelve inches in length, are caught in the forebay of Wheeler's sawmill, near Lebanon, by letting the water out.

Eugene City Register: Lane county contains more good openings and valuable unimproved lands for immigrants than any other county of western Oregon. The immigrants calling at the rooms of the state board last week represented over $100,000, and yet Lane county didn't [illegible] one of them. The reason is simple and [illegible] other counties are represented there and [illegible] better advertised.

The cattle shipments to the Montana ranges from Oregon and Washington this season will amount to 6,000 or 10,000 head. The shipping of live stock will cease to be much of a business as the shipment of slaughtered meat in refrigerators will be much cheaper and better. The beef slaughtered from the range here and shipped can be placed in the eastern markets in a much better condition. The shrinkage on live shipments is nearly one fourth on a large steer, and as a consequence the meat loses its fine [illegible] by the bunching [illegible] and is in every way less palatable.

A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In [illegible] the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. [illegible] The [illegible] has [illegible] Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. TAKE NO OTHER.

THURSDAY, May 21.

Overland receipts include 212 ctls barley, 400 ctls rye, 38 cs leather, 50 bbls lard oil, 60 bxs soap, 10 cs lard, 125 cs candles.

With the single exception of Saturday rain fell each day in the week, the total precipitation being heavy, as at times there came a perfect downpour. This has not been confined to this valley, as all eastern section points have noted heavy rains. Cereal crops have not suffered other than being held back. Small fruits that are fast ripening have been hurt in some few instances, early cherries promising to be watery and possibly to split should warm days follow closely. To-day the elements are engaged in a desperate attempt at clearing. Some loss of sheep is reported from Umatilla and Morrow counties in bands sheared and dipped, from unseasonable cold. Present weather also tends to delay ripening of cereals, and the outlook for an early harvest grows less. Surplus guessers are at work fixing the quantity we are to have for shipment and the eastern section is credited with a surplus of 200,000 tons, the valley with 180,000 tons. Due allowance for a usual overestimate would make the quantities 50,000 to 70,000 tons less. The receipt here of wheat and flour, as wheat for so much of the cereal year 1884-85 as has passed equals 224,723 tons wheat, of which 109,805 tons is valley and 114,918 tons eastern. The probable movement for the balance of the season is pure guess work, but the hold-over quantity promises to be less than it did one month ago. Probably the coming harvest will see a much larger quantity for shipment, but the wheat acreage has not been greatly increasing while the home consumption will be larger. This is quite enough said of probabilities. The result of the valley harvest in good part depends upon harvest weather, as there is no assurance that the experience of last year will not be repeated. The eastern section has always been free from late rains. In the week the local wheat market has shown no quotable change. Full prices have been paid, and in one or more instances quotations were exceeded. In one instance $1 40 was paid for a round lot of valley stored in the interior under agreement that the warehouse owners were to take the wheat at the highest market price when holders were ready to sell. They procured a quotation of $1 40 and secured that figure. This was exceptional, as $1 38¾ was next best figure for milling parcels. Shippers kept below this, having no needs. Quotations of Walla Walla are difficult to secure. Foreign markets continued irregular, falling off yesterday and gaining strength to-day. The wheat situation practically shows no change from that reported for weeks past. Growing crops are now holding up prices, the boosting element in the trade making the most of this important factor. Freights ruled weak, with no decided inquiry. Other lines call for no special mention other than oats, which have been in large dealing at better prices only to close weaker.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours, 414 ctls wheat, 216 bbls flour, 3833 ctls oats, 225 ctls millstuff, 10 sks potatoes, 11,301 lbs wool, 105 lbs hides, 162 cs eggs, 75 bxs fruit, 8 pkgs butter. Also 2780 ctls wheat, 60,775 lbs wool, 1240 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WOOL CONSIGNEES—J. D. Kelty 11,261, Christy & Wise 18,310, Hulme & Hart 14,555, Koshland Bros. 19,565, Pope & Co. 7345.

EXPORTS—Per steamer Oregon for San Francisco: 578 ctls wheat, 4000 sks bran, 1000 sks shorts, 6648 sks oats, 1695 sks barley, 1100 qr 1805 hf sks flour, 735 sks flaxseed, 244,746 lbs wool, 21 cs woolens, 16 bls sheep skins, 65 dry 10 gr hides, 14 bls deer skins, 28 bls calf skins, 30 cs eggs, 21 bxs gooseberries, 1 rl 8 sks leather, 889 pkgs staves, 49 pkgs headings, 2000 bdls lath, 2200 ft lumber, 14 bbls salmon, 1 kg 21 cs tallow, 106 tons old rails, $29,577 treasure.

FREIGHTS—The Carnarvon Castle, iron, arrived disengaged. The Haddingtonshire, iron, was taken up for grain loading, presumably at 42s 6d for orders. The M. & E. Cox, wood, will load Walla Walla wheat on owner's account. The sale of this cargo interfered with a spot charter. Three vessels are now offering salmon room, to sail in June or later, the outlook for this class of freight being poor at the present time. For grain carriage there has been no marked inquiry and the market has probably lost some strength if not actually declining. Iron may be quoted at 42s 6d for orders.

WHEAT—Telegraphed markets for the past week have presented nothing of great interest to the seller, all marking some loss in values, yet no considerable decline. As recently indicated, the crop outlook is the lever used in making prices. The local market has pursued the even tenor of its way, undisturbed by other markets and continuing firm. Holders have not pressed holdings and buyers have remained as indifferent as their small wants would admit. Millers did the bulk of buying and paid full prices, in a few instances exceeding our quotations. Walla Walla grades found next to no trading on spot and the quotation is largely nominal. We quote valley $1 35@1 37½; Walla Walla $1 27½@1 30, with a fraction better paid at times.

FLOUR—Market very quiet, with little other than a local trade doing. San Francisco shipments have ruled light and none has been cleared foreign. Values are steady under a firm grain market. Quote standards $4 60; others, $3 75@4 25.

MILLSTUFF—Some bran going to San Francisco, otherwise there is only the local call to be supplied and the market has ruled quiet without decided weakness. We quote jobbing values. Bran, $11@12; chop, $15@20; shorts, $14@17; middlings, $18@20.

BARLEY—Light movement and no demand. Best brewing held at $20@22 50; feed, $16@18 per ton.

OATS—Extreme figures have been paid for choice, 42½c having been paid for lots suited to milling purposes. Feed sold at 37@40c in the week, but weaker advices yesterday were sympathized with here and buyers bid down, 37c being an extreme for feed. The movement of late has been large, good prices attracting lots, and buyers being possessed of a speculative desire. But a short time hence and new California will be marketed, when there will be a rush to realize. No one here looks for any better prices as it is generally believed that interior stocks are yet large. We quote best feed 36@37½c; poor to common, 30@35c; milling, 40@42c.

POTATOES—Fair local movement in old at 1¼c for common. New California selling at 1½c.

APPLES—Quite inactive and nominal at 75c@$1 for good qualities. Few offered.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.—Prices of California quoted are subject to change on arrival of to-day's steamer. Tropical fruits have met with good request in spite of cold weather. Lemons are being imported direct. Vegetables, both California and Oregon, in free movement. Small fruits sell well at fairly steady prices. We quote selling prices of imported or local sorts: Oranges, $1 75@2 50; lemons, $8; limes, $1 25; cocoanuts, 7c; bananas, $3 75@4 50; cabbage, 2c; cauliflower, $1 25; celery, $1; green peas, 4c; string beans, 8½c; gooseberries, 3@5c; strawberries, 10@15c; California cherries, $1 per 8 lb box; do tomatoes, $2 25; do apricots, $1 25.

HONEY.—Comb 15c, strained 7c.

BUTTER What to do with local sorts, sent in boot, shoe or coal oil cases, lined with old newspapers or calico prints, continues to puzzle the average salesman. Bakers want no more of it; tallow is cheaper, and it will not answer for axle grease. Oregon has a dairy commissioner whose duties evidently do not include authority over this class of stuff, which is called "what-is-it" by some salesmen. Few buyers will touch it at 8@10c. Good to choice roll sells well at 20@25c. No California traded in.

POULTRY—Lighter supplies late in the week enhanced chicken values and we quote $4@5. These figures are likely to be attacked again by larger arrivals. Young quoted $3@3 25; ducks slow at $5; geese dull at $7@9; turkeys, 10@12½c.

HAY—For good $9 is best figure, although choice might do a trifle better. Poor neglected at $6 50@7½.

HIDES, SKINS, ETC.—Dry hides steady. Tallow rules slow at 5c. Quote wet salted hides 5½@6c, dry selected 15@16c. Furs and skins quoted: Dark beaver $1 37½@1 75, valley summer deerskins 20@25c, valley winter 15@20c, eastern Oregon summer deerskins 15@20c; do winter 12½@15c, elkskins 8c per lb. The following sell by the skin: Black bear $1@6, brown do, 50c@$5; dark fisher $2 50@6, pale do 50c@$1, silver fox $5@25, cross do $2@5, red do 75c@$1 50, lynx 37½@50c, prime dark marten 25@75c, dark mink 10@40c, land otter $1 50@5 50, wolf 37½@50c, wolverine 50c@1 50.

THE MEAT MARKET.

Quotations are prices paid to dealers by slaughterers for whole carcasses or on foot.

BEEF—Dealers well supplied. Quote best at 3½c gross.

MUTTON—Quiet, 2½@2¾c being bid and the extreme paid.

VEAL—Supplies free, and 8c is best quotation.

LAMBS—Quote $2 for best.

HOGS—Live sell at 4@4½c; dressed slow at 5½@6c.

Markets by Telegraph.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Weather hazy; wind northwest.

Receipts—Wheat, 11,080 ctls; flour, 2200 ¼ sks; barley, 7120 ctls; oats, 170 ctls; potatoes, 550 sks.

Freights—Inactive with an easy undertone. Very little inquiry.

Wheat—Spot—There is a steadier feeling in the market but not much business passing, owing to firmness of holders who refuse to meet buyers' views. At asking prices there is no margin for shipment. Quote No. 1, shipping at $1 40@1 42½, the latter an extreme. Futures quiet but steady. No. 1 White, buyer the season, $1 45@1 41½; buyer 1885, $1 60¼@1 65¼.

Wheat closed quiet and firm: buyer the season, $1 47½ asked; buyer 1885, $1 60@1 60¾.

Barley—Spot market rather easier; receipts are increasing and the demand only moderate; No. 1 feed, $1 27@1 30. Futures inactive, very little disposition shown to operate; No. 1 feed, buyer the season, $1 31¾ asked.

Oats—In good demand for choice, which brings full figures; poorer grades neglected; receipts above the average; quote Oregon $1 25 to 1 40, Washington $1 12½@1 25.

Wool There is a very good demand for chosen fall. No important transactions made public. Quote eastern Oregon 14@18c.

Butter Fresh roll firm at 18@19c.

Eggs—Quiet.

Bags—Very little doing; prices favor buyers.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 21. Government bonds quiet and unchanged, except a decline of ⅛ in 3s. Sales at the stock exchange to-day foot up about the same as yesterday. Of this business 40 per cent. was done in the first hour, and from that time until the close of the board the dullness was as great as has been seen at any time for many months. There was absolutely no feature to the market except the strength that accompanied the inactivity. Extreme fluctuations in the active list in no case exceeded ½ per cent., except Union Pacific, which was traded in within a range of ¾ per cent., and Pacific Mail, which fluctuated 1 per cent. Closing prices this evening are a small fraction higher than yesterday, almost without exception, the gains ranging from ⅛ to ⅝ per cent.

There was decided strength in early dealings in both Pacific Mail and Union Pacific, due to a general belief that the differences between the Pacific Mail and Pacific railroads had practically been settled. Mr. Huntington of the Central Pacific stated to-day that he thought the subsidy ought to be reduced to $75,000 per month, but Pacific Mail officials insisted on $85,000 and he finally agreed to settle the difference at $85,000. The matter now rests, he said, with the Pacific Mail Company, but he thought it would agree to the terms mentioned. He also called attention to the fact that the whole question is subject to ratification of transcontinental lines, but he would recommend a settlement on the basis mentioned, and he believed the others would acquiesce. The street regards the matter as already settled.

Respecting the Oregon Railway and Navigation lease to the Northern and Union Pacific, it is stated late this afternoon that progress has been made, but no conclusion yet reached. There was a meeting at the Northern Pacific offices in regard to the matter. The general impression in this case is also that a settlement will be made satisfactory to all parties in the interest.

The mining market was active and strong during the forenoon, the volume of transactions having been the largest for a long time. Prices were strong and generally higher. Bulwer sold at 70@73 @51 regular and 55 buyer 60, Green Mountain 50, Grand Prize 50, California and Virginia, $1 30 2 10, Horn Silver $1 90@1 85@1 95@190 regular, and 82 buyer 60, Iron Silver $1 25, Mexican $1 25, Navajo $1 25@1 30, Oriental and Miller $11, Robinson 40@45, Sierra Nevada $1 30@1 40, Standard $1 27½ 1 25 regular, $1 25 buyer 30, Savage $1 50 s 10 and Silver King $3 95.
